UNPRECEDENTED FIRE WASTE IN CANADA.

Up to the present, the fire loss of the Dominion of Canada is 25 per cent. greater than for the corresponding period of last year. If this rate of destruction continues, the loss will exceed thirty-two million dollars in 1918, and together with insurance and fire protection, will constitute a burden of over $65,000,000. This means about $10 out of the pocket of every man, woman and child in Canada, or almost $40 for the average family.

CATTLE PRICES LOWER ON WINNIPEG MARKET

Winnipeg, July 17.—Cattle prices at the stock yards are falling fast. The drop has been marked during the last few days. Lack of feed in some drought stricken districts to the west has resulted in some loss, and this has had some effect on the market.

Butcher cattle have dropped 1 to 3c a pound since the middle of last week. Veal calves have dropped 1 to 4c due to heavy receipts and poor quality of cattle during the last few days.

F. Beddington's horse ran away on Wednesday, smashing the rig to which it was hitched badly. Two children who were in the rig when the horse started escaped without serious injury.

J. A. Sandgren, of Pincher Creek, has spent several days here this week, locating his stock on the forest reserve.

J. F. Gamble, of Nelson, has been at the McGillivray mine this week. Mr. Gamble is an expert rock driller.

United States Boots off Market.

Calgary wholesalers have received advice to the effect that the American boot and shoe may soon be off the Canadian market, owing to pending action in the United States toward an embargo on the export of this commodity.

Montreal Bachelors Taxed.

Official notices are being issued by the city of Montreal to the effect that all bachelors who have reached the age of 25 years who are living, or making a living in Montreal, are required to pay a special tax of $10 a head, on or before the first of August next.

Soldier's Wife Drowned.

Mrs. Letitia Layland, whose husband is overseas, was drowned at Centre Park, Toronto, while attempting to rescue her four-year-old daughter who was in the water beyond her depth and lost her life.

In a recent German raid on the Belgians, more than fifty girls were killed by air bombs launched upon an ambulance park at Lapanne, behind the Yser front.

SUPREMACY OF THE WAR COUNCIL IS CONFIDENT OF ULTIMATE SUCCESS

ALLIED ARMIES DISPLAY STEADFAST COURAGE

Are Resolute in the Determination Not To Sacrifice a Single One Of the Free Nations Of the World To the Despotism Rule of Kaiserism

The supreme war council, which has had under advisement the entire war situation, has expressed in an official statement made public, full confidence in the outcome of the war with the aid of the American forces. Complete confidence in General Foch is also expressed, and thanks are extended to President Wilson for his co-operation in the the United States can bring its full American troops.

"The supreme war council held its sixth session under circumstances of great gravity for the alliance of free peoples," says the statement. "The German government, relieved of all pressure from the eastern front by the collapse of the Russian army and people, has concentrated all its effort in the west. It is now seeking to gain a decision in Europe by a series of desperate and costly assaults upon the allied armies before the United States can bring its full strength effectively to bear.

"The advantage it possesses in its strategic position and superior railway facilities has enabled the enemy command to gain some initial success. It will undoubtedly renew its attacks, and the allied troops may be still exposed to critical days.

"After a review of the whole position, the supreme war council is convinced that the allies, bearing the trials of the forthcoming campaign with the same fortitude as they have ever exhibited in defence of the right, will be able to meet the purpose and in due course bring him to defeat. Everything possible is being done to sustain and support the armies in the field. The arrangements for unity of command have greatly improved the position of the allied armies and are working smoothly and with success. The supreme war council has complete confidence in General Foch and his staff with pride and admiration the valor of the allied troops.

"Thanks to the prompt and cordial co-operation of the president of the United States, the arrangements which were set on foot more than two months ago for the transportation and brigading of American troops will make it impossible for the enemy to gain victory by wearing out the allied reserve before he has exhausted his own.

"The supreme war council is confident of the ultimate result, and the allied peoples are resolute not to sacrifice a single one of the free nations of the world to the despotism of Berlin. The supreme war council is displaying the same steadfast courage which has enabled them on many previous occasions to defeat a German onset. They have only to endure with faith and patience to the end to make victory for freedom secure.

"The free peoples and their magnificent soldiers will save civilization."

Hail Losses

Baskatchewan's Experience Better in 1917 Than in 1916

Losses paid last year by the Saskatchewan Municipal Hail Insurance Association amounted to $82,362, as compared with losses of $165,043 in 1916, of which the association paid 50 per cent, or $146,296, while the administration costs were $36,596 in 1917 and $59,468 in 1916. The 1917 revenue was $290,790, as compared with $200,000 less than in the previous year. Losses were comparatively light until after the middle of August, when a heavy storm swept over the central section of the province.

At a convention of the Insurance Association held in Moose Jaw last month, motions to increase the rate from four to five cents per acre were defeated, but it was resolved to adopt the flat rate of four cents per acre, but under an automatic seeded acreage rate. Under the latter scheme all municipalities will come under the Municipal Hail Insurance Act, but any farmer may withdraw upon giving notice to the secretary-treasurer of the municipality prior to June 1 in any year.

At the convention, E. G. Hingley, secretary of the association, is reported to have admitted that the system of municipal hail insurance at present in use was not a real insurance but merely a device for getting out of hand and that it is impossible to guarantee complete insurance for the present flat rate.

Canada Saving Wheat

Review of Some of the Measures Taken to Provide Supplies For Our Allies

All Canadian flour mills are now producing 196 pounds (barrel) of flour from 258 pounds of wheat. Manufacture of wheat flour or division of patents is prohibited. In the United States the mills are using 264 pounds of wheat to produce a barrel of flour. The supply of available substitutes has been greater there than in Canada and persons have been buying substitutes at an equal weight of the wheat flour which they purchase.

As a result of arrangements made by the Canada food board, Canadian mills are now using 8,000 bushels of corn per day in the manufacture of flour. The capacity of the mills for grinding corn is being rapidly increased, and is very soon expected to reach 20,000 bushels per day. Manufacture of flour from corn (or Cream of Wheat) has been prohibited. Manufacturers of breakfast foods and packages of cereals, whose products formerly consisted largely of wheat, have been obliged to substitute other cereals in part, and largely to curtail their output. The sale of wheat or flour for feeding live stock has been prohibited. The use of wheat in making candy has been prohibited.

All the bakers in Canada are now under regulation of the Canada food board, and their use of wheat flour is being controlled. Persons manufacturing cakes or other sweet food products, biscuits, etc., are required to use at least 90 per cent of substitutes for wheat flour. In the case of soda biscuits at least 10 per cent of substitutes must be used.

Canada is saving bread and other wheat products by strict compulsory regulations, applicable to all public institutions, hotels, restaurants, etc., have gone further than is required by the regulations and are using substitutes for wheat flour to the greatest possible extent.

A far-reaching educational campaign for decreased consumption of wheat and wheat products has been carried on. This has included a campaign for increased use of vegetables in place of wheat. Holdings of four have been strictly limited, and persons having in their possession larger quantities than allowed by the Canada food board's orders are required under heavy penalties to return such excess.

Huns Caught In Their Own Trap

They Mistook Own Aviators for a British Patrol

This is the story of a battle royal waged in the air between two flights of German planes. It was an unintentional but disastrous fight between brother aviators during which British pilots joyfully and impartially rendered assistance to the one side, then to the other, until so many of the emperor's machines were damaged that the conflict could not continue.

It was on June 5 that the extraordinary engagement occurred and it began thus: Two British officers in a fighting machine were leading a patrol along the frontier when a German plane, the man Haberstadt, two-seater, which, on their appearance, fired a green signal light. The leaders expected a trap and waited to see what unusual performance meant. In a short time, six German scouts came wheeling out of the blue and joined the Haberstadt. Almost at once six other enemy scouts dived out of the sun into their comrades, whom they apparently mistook for a British patrol about to attack. What happened was this:

The Haberstadt had been acting as a decoy and the green light had meant as a signal for assistance, but there had been no expectation that the German planes would respond at the same time. "Not being able to distinguish the marking of their friends—and this was a very serious mistake—therefore the newcomers began a furious attack on them. The British leader then guided their patrol into the Haberstadt and took a hand. The Haberstadt was the first victim, and this was shot down by the British planning machine. Another British fighter, in the meantime, had accounted for two more enemy scouts, which were sent swinging to destruction below. At the time, the German aircraft were continuing their bitter battle among themselves, and several of them were seen to go down out of control before the engagement finally ended. The British leaders, by their good judgment had led the Huns into their own trap."

Unlicensed Eating Houses Illegal
On and after Saturday, June 1st, it comes illegal for restaurant keepers to remain in business unless they have a license from the Canada food board. This applies also to boarding houses, serving twenty-four meals per day to outsiders, other than the household or members of the family.

Spain claims that Charlie Chaplin is a Spaniard, who was born in the Calle de las Bueras, Madrid. His father's name was Jose Martinez Chaplin, who came from Asturias, and for some time kept a bar in Madrid. In 1884 he is said to have emigrated to Cuba. From there he went to the United States, and thence to England. Chaplin is registered in Madrid under the name of Carlos Martinez Chaplin. It is not known whether all the family became naturalized English subjects or

Were on the Road
A priest in a West Tipperary village sent a pair of boots to the cobbler for repairs, but Bill, who had been in the village for a long time, was not touched that day. Next morning his nerves were rather shaky and he longed for a half of the dog that bit him. His boots were rather dirty, so he thought there was no harm in putting on the priest's shoes. He accordingly did and turned off into the village pub for a big "reviver." He had not gone very far when who should he meet but the priest, who said: "I sent my boots for repairs, William; are you not finished with them, yet?" "No, your reverence," answered Bill calmly, "they're not mended yet, but they're on the road."

Idols as Kindling Wood
One could hardly imagine a more revolutionary proceeding in the life of a house than to chop up the household gods and build fires with them. Yet this is what is happening in many places under the influence of Christian teaching. Some time ago a progressive citizen of a town in Central China told his neighbors that it was absurd to worship the idols in the Buddhist temple. After a number of others were convinced that he was right, they took community action and transformed the temple into a workshop and the idols into stove wood. Even an American mission in the same town, in which the meat was cooked over burning idols.

Gathering Up the Scraps of War

Often Enough Work Has to Be Carried on Under a Terrific Bombardment

Upon the terrible fields of war, there is nothing, aside from the waste of human life, that produces a more painful impression on the occasional person who is allowed to wander over a battlefield just after an attack than the great quantities of material that is scattered about with seemingly reckless precision.

All this material was made through long hours of sweat and labor and toil to be used in saving the country, and here it all is lying in great quantities unused about a dead battlefield, having unfulfilled its purpose and having served no end.

But it is not now all lost, as it was up to a few months ago. It is now being used in saving the country, and here it all is lying in great quantities unused about a dead battlefield, having unfulfilled its purpose and having served no end.

Hardly have the troops passed forward in an attack than a second army, usually of aged territorials, follows it on to the battlefield and begins the work of picking up the scraps of war.

Sometimes their organization calls them the "rag pickers of the army" and sometimes the "divers for spoils" but in the present official organization of the army they rank as a very important corps.

Their work too is often dangerous as that of the troops who dash forward in an attack. They have to handle abandoned explosives of the most perilous kind to touch, but often enough their work has to be carried on under a terrific bombardment.

But they do it as heroically, as stoically, and as methodically as do the troops who are in the front of the hot soup up to the fighting line through a barrage of machine gun bullets.

First there are the unused shells which the batteries and trench mortars had to abandon as they dashed forward in an attack. They are of half a dozen or more and sometimes scattered singly about.

But every one is exceedingly valuable for a victor. As the work is made, for the skill and genius that has gone into the construction of its highly perfected fuse and mechanism. Less delicately made trench bombs and aerial torpedoes are likewise valuable.

Most dangerous are the unexploded German shells which lie scattered about. They may explode at the first touch of a stick, or they may be gathered up both for the removal of such a menace and for the value of the material they contain.

Then come the hand grenades. These may have been abandoned, or they may have been used, or they may be gathered up both for the removal of such a menace and for the value of the material they contain.

Then there are the bayonets or rifles that the soldier may have been obliged to abandon or to throw from him. They are gathered up both for the removal of such a menace and for the value of the material they contain.

HAMMER BLOWS THAT STRENGTHEN GOOD METAL

Premier Lloyd George Points Out That If, For Any Cause, the Allies Fail To Succeed, This Will Be a Sorry World To Live In, Under Domination Of the Hun

The Daily Chronicle's Paris correspondent says that the long range cannon with which the Germans are bombarding Paris were invented several years ago. A model was shown to an American general early in 1914, by Frau Bertha Krupp when she visited London. Bohen Underbach (principal owner of the Krupp works, Hesse). "The gun," says the report, "was shown to the American when he visited Essen on an official mission. He had been taken all through the vast Krupp works escorted by a swart, technical expert and was about to retire when Frau Bertha dismissed all the party except two confidential members of the firm, and the latter conducted the general to a secret room."

"The visitor's attention was attracted by two immense cannon with extremely long tubes and of relatively small diameter. Frau Bertha said in excellent English, 'These are the guns you ought to order for the Panama Canal defence.' They carry ninety miles, are guaranteed and cost $240,000 each. Of course, these are only trial guns and they cannot fire more than 20 to 25 shells without being repaired. But you can appreciate the intangibility results which will be obtained by the nation that first obtains such guns."

On the Run
The Bravery of a North of England Battalion in Its First Engagement
Proof of cool intrepidity of the bravery with which a north of England battalion left their trenches at the commencement of the great offensive and charged the enemy is shown in a letter from a soldier of the battalion in a letter home. He says:

"You will be interested to hear that we were fighting on our left on Saturday, and after I was wounded I laid down and watched them. They advanced like veterans, although this was their first fight. I am afraid they suffered rather heavily, as my regiment did. It was about the hottest fight I have ever been in, and you know I have been in a good few. I was caught in the neck by a splinter off a bullet after it had struck the ground."

"There were all sorts of Germans. Some looked quite good and others only 15 to 18 years of age. We lost a lot of men, but the Germans lost many more. We were very good as prisoners in the trench, but we threw bombs as fast as we could to keep the enemy from us, and in the end they were running away. I hope they are running still."

French Confidence in "Tommy"
Not once from the beginning of the German onslaught has the confidence of the French people in the ability of the British army to stand off all odds wavered. They understand the characteristics of "Tommy" better than the many of the British own people do. "Now we see the British soldiers at their best with the odds against them, and when the outlook seems unfavorable," was the general comment. "The Boche is going to pay through the nose for nothing." Their confidence was not jarred even by the long-range bombardment of their capital—Victoria, B. C. Times.

An Opinion For Ireland

Only One View Prevails as to the Present Situation

If, as is indicated by despatches from Dublin, all Ireland awaits the opinion of the United States concerning political conditions in that country, we think it may be given without hesitation.

There is full recognition here of every oppression and every blunder of the British government for generations past in dealing with the Irish. But, aside from a small and venomous group of agitators, only one view prevails as to the present situation. Neither home rule nor party and race prejudice can be pleaded in justification of resistance to the war.

What valiant Irishmen all over the world are doing to defeat a predatory autocracy ought to be a sufficient answer on this point to every Irishman in Ireland. Between Dublin and London many scores remain for settlement, but until Irishmen no less than Englishmen know whether they are to be under the heel of a German master, what do these matters to the war?

John Dillon puts the case plainly in only one way. The aspect which in behalf of the Nationalists he appeals to the United States to "support the one party in Ireland which is fighting for Irish liberty without betraying the cause of liberty in other lands."—From the New York World.

Having a Whack at War

Canadian Had Charge of Two Big Guns and Knew How to Use Them

The following article has been received from Roland Hunt, who is up and down this hard-fighting front you find Canadians in unexpected places. Today I met a major in command of two of the latest big guns, mounted on railway tracks, hammering away at a German back area. He had been through the present battle and both of his pets are still in fine shape. The major came over with a Winnipeg battalion. He was engaged in educational administration in Manitoba, and knew nothing about gunnery, but he was not going back without having a whack at the war. Although he knew nothing about gunnery, he did know a lot about mathematics, and when he was sent to a northern English munition works to see his guns in the making, he so impressed the imperial authorities that he was given an immediate commission. Since then he has been educating the Hunns with ranges varying up to twenty miles, cross roads and railway stations being his specialty.

During the first day of the Hun offensive he was at Rosel, and keeping one eye on the railway track behind him and the other on his pet, he worried the Hun railway junction right up to the moment the line had receded so far that he found himself a lone commander in the day. "Then I thought it was time to get out," he said, "and came quite comfortably, managing to get a round or two when we got to strongly laid lines, and here we are again."

The Way to Success

"The secret of success," the stamp said, "is sticking to it."

"To succeed," said the knife, "be bright and sharp."

"Keep up to date," said the calendar.

"Aspire to greater things," said the nutting man.

"Don't knock it's old fashioned," said the electric bell.

"Do a driving business," said the hammer.

"Never lose your head," said the barrel.

"Make light of everything," the fire observed cynically.

"But always keep cool," said the ice.

A Fight for Life

It has been light or die for many of us in the past and the lucky people are those who have suffered, but who are now well because they heeded nature's warning signal in time to correct their trouble with that wonderful new discovery of Dr. Pierce's, called "An-Auric."

You should promptly heed these warnings, some of which are disney spells, backache, irregularity of the urine or the painful twinges of rheumatism, sciatica or lumbago. To delay may make possible the dangerous forms of kidney disease, such as diabetes or stone in bladder.

To overcome these distressing conditions take plenty of exercise in the open air, avoid a heavy meat diet, drink freely of water and at each meal take An-Auric (double strength). You will, in a short time, find that you are one of the true lovers of An-Auric.

Hamilton, Ont.—"For kidney ailments I have never known of a more powerful remedy than An-Auric. When I started to take it I was very miserable with lame back, pains in the cords of my neck, shoulders and all over my body. The water was high and I was in a very bad condition. After one week's use of An-Auric I consider it to be the greatest of all kidney medicines."—Mrs. JENNIE CHASE, 78 Queen St. E., Toronto, Ont.

"My husband suffered severely with pain in his back for three months. He was unable to take any food. An-Auric in three or four days he not only looked better, but remarked that his back felt much better, and now he says he can run over any part of a system of 33 miles exactly like an ordinary tramway car."

Mrs. MARY BRYAN, 54 Seaton St.

Development of the West

Pronounced Progress in Permanent Farming in Areas Served by the C. N. R.

A remarkable increase during 1917 in handlings of live stock and of but-ter, eggs, dressed meat, and dressed poultry, over the year 1916, in Western Canada is indicated in a statement compiled by the freight department of the Canadian Northern Railway. Any great increase in tonnage in these commodities, of course, could not be accomplished without pronounced progress in permanent farming in areas served by the C. N. R. in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. It is significant that the prairie provinces are becoming exporters of dairy products, where in recent years they were importers on a considerable scale.

During 1917, 11,363 cars of live stock were handled over the lines of the Canadian Northern Railway system as compared with 7,245 during 1916. This is an increase of 4,118 cars or 57 per cent.

Of cattle in 1917, there were handled 5,421 cars as compared with 2,909 in 1916. Of hogs 2,274 cars, as compared with 1,768 in 1916. Of sheep 261 cars in 1917 as against 76 in 1916; and mixed stock 3,407 in 1917 as against 2,501 in 1916. The percentage increase in cattle was 87 per cent; of sheep, 243 per cent; hogs, 29 per cent; and mixed 36 per cent.

During 1917 the produce shipped from stations on the Canadian Northern Railway system reached a total of 21,436,000 pounds in 1916, an increase of 3,182,000 pounds or 15 per cent. The produce shipped amounted to 8,146,000 pounds as compared with 6,826,000 pounds in 1916, an increase of 1,320,000 pounds.

The cheese shipped totalled 1,072,000 pounds as compared with 780,000 in 1916, an increase of 292,000 pounds. Eggs in 1917 amounted to 5,980,000 pounds as compared with 4,682,000 in 1916, an increase of 1,298,000 pounds. Dressed meats handled over the lines amounted to 9,108,000 pounds in 1917, as against 7,866,000 in 1916, an increase of 1,242,000 pounds.

During 1917 as compared with 1916, the percentage increase in live stock was 87 per cent; hogs, 29 per cent; eggs 5 per cent; dressed meat 16 per cent, and dressed poultry 11 per cent.

Clean Stomach, Clear Mind.—The stomach is the workshop of the vital functions and when it gets out of order the whole system clogs in sympathy. The spirits flag, the mind droops and we feel punishment is due. The first care should be to restore healthful action of the stomach and the best preparation for this purpose is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. General use for years won them a leading place in medicine. A trial will attest their value.

Controlling Fires On Settlers' Clearings

Admirable Working of Permit System Wherever It Has Been Applied

The permit system of regulating settlers' clearing fires is now in effect throughout nearly all the forest regions of Canada. Last year, legislation to bring it into force was adopted in Ontario, Manitoba and Saskatchewan. This year, the new Fire Act in New Brunswick makes the plan effective throughout that province. In Nova Scotia, Quebec, and British Columbia, the system has been in effect for years. Alberta is now the only forest province without it.

Wherever the setting out of settlers' clearing fires has been regulated by the permit system, with an adequate staff for its enforcement, it has worked wonders in reducing the loss of forest resources, and in setting back to agricultural development.

The disposal of logging slash by fire, under control, is a problem closely related to that of slash resulting from settlers' clearing operations. In various parts of Canada, where the safe disposal of logging slash is receiving increased attention, due to the rapidly increasing stumpage value of timber and to the realization that our forest resources are by no means inexhaustible.—C.L. in Conservation.

Dandelions as Food

Cornell University has published a card "Dandelions as Food" which explains how some benefit may be obtained from this yellow flowering plant which prevents the lawns from being beautiful. It is known that iron is necessary to maintain the body in perfect health, and that fresh vegetables and especially greens or spinach supply a large proportion. Dandelion greens are valuable in this respect. They may be used to supplement the staple foods and give variety to the menu.

Rode to Death Laughing

Joked With Correspondents While the German Shells Were Bursting

The Major was detailed by the British last October to assist in training Americans in bayonet fighting. In January he was transferred to the U. S. army with a Major's commission. He was immediately put in command of a battalion and went into action on the front northwest of Toul, where he succeeded slightly.

On the night that his battalion was moved from its billets into the line on the Picardy front, Major Rasmussen joked with several correspondents while the German shells were bursting in the village a few miles away. He told them they might have his uniform, helmet and other things in case he was killed. He rode laughing toward the trenches.

Members Adapting Themselves to Army Discipline

The difficulties experienced by new members of the British army, especially the privates, in adapting themselves to army discipline will one day, surely open up a field for a delightful collection of stories.

The tale of the irate British trade unionist who, threatened "to strike" when certain supposed rights were infringed is well known, as is that of the new recruit who, meeting an officer and failing to salute him, gave as an excuse that, as the officer had severely reprimanded him the day before, he understood they were not "on speaking terms."

One of the latest concerns an Australian officer, on his "arrival." "Don't you know," said he to an off-putting private, "you oughtn't to wear your hat here?" "No," said the private, "nobody told me that."

"You came over with one of the late drafts, I suppose," said the officer. "Oh, no," replied the other, as a matter of course, indulging in a nice irony, as he eyed the terribly new uniform of the subaltern. "I didn't wait for one of the late drafts. I came along with the first push."

Naturally

"Do you wish to show me your references?"

"No, mum. I came for my wages."

"Well, I get my coat mixed up so. Half the time I can't tell whether you are going or coming."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

CONSERVE OR PERISH.

Whether we have a high tariff or no tariff, an income tax or a head tax, direct or indirect taxation, bimetalism or a single standard, national banks or state banks, are matters which concern, to be true, the temporary convenience of the members of society, but their prejudicial adjustment is easily remediable when ill effects become apparent, the inconveniences may be removed with but little harm to the community and none to mankind at large, or to the future. But whether fertile lands are turned into deserts, forests into waste places, brooks into torrents, rivers changed from means of power and intercourse into means of destruction and desolation—these are questions which concern the material existence itself of society, and since such changes become often irreversible, the damage irremediable, and at the same time the extent of available resources becomes smaller in proportion to population, their consideration is finally much more important than those other questions of the day.
Only those nations who develop their national resources economically, and avoid the waste of that which they produce, can maintain their power or even secure the continuance of their separate existence.—Dr. B. E.
Fernow.

One ounce of edible meat—lean meat, fat and lean, suet or fat, trimmed from steak, chop or roast—
A one-inch cube of meat weighs about One Ounce.

If saved everyday by each of the 1,600,000 families in Canada it would mean a daily saving for the soldiers and our allies of 100,000 pounds of meat.

or a saving in one year of—
36,500,000
pounds of valuable

This saving represents the meat from at least 90,000

weight—

If every Canadian family can save this precious one

THE LIVE STOCK NUISANCE

Editor: Coleman Bulletin:

Dear Sir,—Seeing that the Blairmore Council have recently passed a bye law prohibiting cattle from being allowed to run loose in and near the town, I am writing to ask if we cannot get the same protection in Coleman.

We hear of the narrow escapes children have from being killed through horses stampeding through the town. The sidewalks are often in a disgusting state through cow droppings, etc., and all this is allowed to go on just to gratify the selfishness of one or two narrow men who only think of themselves. Quite recently a poor widow's garden was completely destroyed by cows and calves eating all the produce, and the only answer she got on making a complaint to the owner was "You should keep your gate shut."

In addition, the state of some of the places owning these cattle is quite dangerous to the health of the community. The refuse is allowed to accumulate quite close to houses, and the drainage ultimately is going to cause an epidemic, if not stopped. I hope, Sir, this vigorous protest will cause the Council to take the necessary steps. They must be quite alive to the necessity of a bye law (if there is not one already in force) and if they will not protect the citizens for the sake of one or two selfish people, it is up to the people of the Town to take the steps to protect themselves. I may add that the case mentioned above is only one of a large number of complaints made in that particular part of the Town, and the injured persons should band together and make the offending people pay through the police court. It is a shame and scandal that a person's bit of garden should be overrun and destroyed and no remedy for it.
